Step aboard the Zophiel, a graceful sailing yacht that embarked on two extraordinary summer cruises in 2007. In "Zophiel: Two Summer Cruises in 2007," a captivating account penned by an avid sailor, you'll experience the thrill of adventure, the serenity of exploration, and the breathtaking beauty of the open sea.

Cruise 1: Exploring the Enchanting Coast of Maine

The first cruise took the Zophiel along the picturesque coast of Maine, a land of rugged beauty, charming harbors, and pristine islands. From the bustling port of Portland to the secluded coves of Frenchman Bay, the journey unfolded as a tapestry of maritime wonders.

The rugged and captivating coastline of Maine, a haven for sailors and nature enthusiasts alike.

The crew navigated through narrow channels, past towering cliffs, and into sheltered bays, encountering pods of playful seals, majestic eagles soaring overhead, and the occasional curious whale breaching the surface.

Cruise 2: Island Hopping in the San Juan Islands

The second cruise ventured into the enchanting San Juan Islands, a breathtaking archipelago located in the Pacific Northwest. With its emerald-green waters, forested hills, and abundant wildlife, the islands beckoned with promises of adventure and tranquility.

The Zophiel sailed between the islands of Orcas, Lopez, and San Juan, exploring hidden bays, discovering secluded anchorages, and encountering a plethora of marine life, from graceful orcas to playful sea otters.
